July 2018

From the Interim Priest

A few years ago I took up rowing. I was driving past the UMass-Lowell Boathouse on the Merrimack River and saw a banner inviting all to “Learn to Row” so I signed up. It was perfect for me; I was working at the homeless shelter in Lowell and needed to do something completely different. I was in an eight person boat with a coxswain. Each rower has one oar, called Sweep rowing. It was great. I had my oar and was told exactly what to do. I learned to be in sync with everyone else in the boat. Eyes forward, focusing on the back of the head of the person in front of me, one stroke after another. When the cox said faster, we rowed faster, when she said row harder we rowed harder. Only when she said take a break, could we take a break. I enjoyed being part of a team with someone else in charge.

Since coming to St. Stephen’s I have not been able to participate in the evening Sweep program in Lowell. An alternative to Sweeping is called Sculling, where the rower has two oars and is usually rowing alone. I have been able to do this and found that while sculling is similar to sweeping, it feels different. The boat is smaller, narrower, and does not have those big oars to keep it stable. It is much easier to tip over while sculling. However, except for the hands, the basic mechanics of the stroke is the same. The change is that I am solely responsible for the balance, or set, of the boat. I also, have to pay attention to where I am going since there is no cox to guide me. I get to determine the pace and strength of each stroke and can take a break whenever I want.

It has occurred to me that St. Stephen’s has also moved from Sweep rowing to Sculling. You no longer have someone who is steering the boat and telling you when to row harder and when to rest. St. Stephen’s is largely on its own, having to look around, having to keep the “boat” set and determine how hard to push. What is remarkable to me is how much you, the members of St. Stephen’s, are staying your seats and driving this ship forward. It is different than when you had a Rector, but the commitment and vision continues.

It has been a great privilege for me to be on the water with you. We may be mid-steam but God has provided all that we need to keep on rowing.

Blessings,

The Rev. Tom Barrington

A Word from the Senior Warden

It has been quite a busy spring around the church as we wind down from the regular program year and gear up for summer youth programs. St. Stephen's is blessed to have a crew of dedicated volunteers who give of their time and talent to make so many things happen around the church. Here are but a few glimpses of activities that have happened this spring. Other activities will also be highlighted elsewhere in this newsletter.

Our Sunday School finished up the program year on Sunday, June 10th. We gave out numerous scholarships, both from endowed funds and from gifts of parishioners. It was a great time to celebrate our parishioners who are continuing their education in a post secondary setting as well as a time to thank and remember past and present parishioners for their commitment to helping others further their education.

Members of our KIC Advisory Board have been busy applying for grant funding for KIC summer camp as well as getting things ready for the program to "kick" off in just a few weeks. St. Stephen's is blessed to have been awarded thousands of dollars in grants that will fund KIC again this summer. What an awesome testament to the importance of this program serving the needs of the people in our neighborhoods!

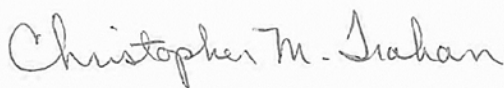

The Summer Learning Program is also preparing for the summer. Grant funding, from the diocese and private sources, is being received in order to run this program again this year. Summer Learning will run tandem to KIC Summer Camp for elementary age children to get extra tutoring in reading and math to continue to enrich their academic skills so that they may not fall behind during summer vacation.

The Big Money Raffle Committee kicked off the summer fundraising season on Sunday, June 10th. The Big Money raffle drawing will be held this year on July 29th in the dining room at St. Stephen's, due to the Porthole Restaurant closing its doors. Remember to get your tickets early as this fundraiser continues to get more popular each year. Last year, tickets were sold out before the event was held.

And while all this has been happening, members of the Vestry and Search Committee held a joint retreat with our diocesan consultant to discuss the search process for a new rector. Members of the Search Committee are busy planning out the next steps in order to prepare a parish profile that we may post for prospective applicants. Please be willing to participate in activities that will help the Search Committee gather important information for this process.

Last, the repairs to the Anderson Wing, due to the frozen pipe burst in January, are nearly complete. The last remaining items are cosmetic finishing touches and the replacement of the control panel on the boiler. Having most of the affected rooms off limits during the repairs has been a big inconvenience this past winter and spring however, it did bring beneficial improvements to our space.

Sincerely,

Chris Trahan

Farewell from Our Life Together Fellow

I didn't know Reverend Jane was leaving when I was offered the position to work at St. Stephen's. When I accepted, I imagined my job would mostly consist of being mentored by Reverend Jane and Reverend Sarah, and just doing exactly what concrete tasks they laid out for me. As you all know, that is so far from the reality of my year here, where at times, all of us in the office had to scramble to get even the smallest task done on time. This period of transition has been so different than we all imagined and that is challenging.

But this time I got to share with you all, has been the largest blessing. So many woman have adopted me as their daughter and I have had friendship extended to me by so many.

During transitions, it is incredibly easy to lose track of our values and what is important to us. Anxiety and fear begin to creep in. What if KIC never reopens? What if we don't have enough kids in church school? I know I have felt scared plenty of times this year. However, in times of stress, I remember the things that brought me to call this place home before I even started working here: the openness to difference, the kids running up and down the aisles, the holy chaos, the 15 minute peace, the strong woman, the plethora of alleluias, the deep & real commitment to our community, the quiriness, and more. Before starting to come here in my junior year of college, I was used to Evangelical churches where, to me, there was a lack of theological and social commitments and a heavy emphasis on the performative aspects of the service. And to me, St. Stephens is the opposite of that in the most holy, beautiful way, and it is where I found my church home. I hope we all can remember our sense of belong and love for this place in the scary moments of transition we will continue to have.

Not having a Life Together Fellow next year could feel really alarming. But I am not nervous because I know of all the people that stepped up to get things done this year. The Christmas pageant, CPPK, Elf Gifts, MLK Day, Signature Collecting with ECCO, Youth Sundays, The Soul Celebration, Lynn Youth Pride, Church School, and more, would not have been possible if we all didn't work together in the ways we have. No matter what the staff looks like over the next couple years and how the programs change, I know that you all will remain committed to this place being welcoming for all.

I have learned a lot about what it means to be a "St. Stephens Episcopalian" this year. And I know that I am one. St. Stephens is the only Episcopal Church I know and part of me is pretty nervous to see what other Episcopal churches are like. But, as I start divinity school at Boston University in the fall, I will not forget the lessons of being a "St. Stephens Episcopalian." I will prioritize relationships. I will take my theology into the streets. I will challenge my internalized white norms for work. I will love Jesus.

So thank you all so much for helping me grow and teaching me this year. But also know that my "good-bye" is also a "see-you-later," because Boston is not that far, and I will never pass up an invitation to catch up over at Brother's Deli!

All of my love and thanks,

Jamie Shore

VESTRY SUMMARY.

The Vestry met last month with the Search Committee on Monday, June 4 for a four-hour retreat. Vestry also met for a short meeting on June 17. The Big Money Raffle fundraiser, property repairs, church CORI Policy and summer programs were discussed. An Employment Policy Committee was formed.

A WORD FROM THE SEARCH COMMITTEE

Hi All!

Your search committee has been hard at work! We recently met for a four hour retreat facilitated by Ed Rewolinski, our search consultant from the diocese. We were joined with the vestry for this time of meditation and reflection. Key to this process was the discussion of what exactly was the charge or core tasks of the search committee as we sought to build a process that was tailored especially for St. Stephen's. As we go forth on this journey know that the search committee wants to know your hopes, dreams and reflections. To this end we will embark on our first task: the self-study. We have already begun this task but will continue for the foreseeable future. We are seeking an inclusive and transparent process. So let us know what you think! You can reach Steve or me by contacting the office. We will be meeting the first Sunday and the third Monday of every month throughout the summer! We look forward to hear from you.

FROM THE TREASURER'S OFFICE:

The 2017 Parish Audit has been completed and accepted by the Diocese. The Parish has been working for the last year to overhaul our Chart of Accounts so that we could meet new diocesan audit guidelines. The work that has been done by the Treasurer with the help of diocesan financial consultant, Terry Robinson, has brought our financial reporting and tracking up to date. In addition to ensuring that we meet diocesan guidelines, it also means clearer and more detailed reports for the Vestry. Also, tracking our diverse income streams, designated and restricted funds and endowment is now much simpler and can all be managed through Quick Books. So, compiling information for the Annual Report will also be easier for the Treasurer's Office. As we enter the search process for a new permanent Rector, one detail that many are not aware of is that the Parish will go through a financial review by the Diocese. The good news is that much of the work that was undertaken to revise of Chart of Accounts has given us a head start, and that Terry Robinson will carry forward as our Financial Consultant for the review.

As summer is upon us, please use your Realm log in to make sure your pledge is up to date if you plan to wander! If you need help to set up a Realm profile and log in, please speak with Carolyn Hoy or Heather Collis Puro. Realm is a great way for the Parish and Treasurer's Office to track personal and giving information.

Pledge statements will go out in July. Those who have Realm profiles can log in any time to check their balance!

RAFFLE - QUILT IN CIVIL WAR PATTERN -TO BENEFIT RESTORATION FUND

We will be raffling off a 60 in. by 80. in. (will fit a full size bed) beautiful Civil War-patterned Quilt that has been donated to us for fundraising purposes. It is hand/machine made. Money received will go into our restoration fund.

The pattern is quite fitting considering that our church is a memorial to Lt. Col. Charles Redington Mudge who died at Gettysburg in 1863 at the young age of 23. At that time quilts were made by wives of soldiers and taken to war or sold for income when their husbands were away. They also were symbols on safe houses that were part of the Underground Railroad. The colors were the honor colors with shades of red, gold and blue but dull. This quilt has those colors as well as many others and would blend with many decors.

This is an exceptional quilt that can be used on a couch or bed and become a conversation piece in any room. It is washable. Please sell tickets to your friends and family and add to our Restoration fund. Tickets will be available after the 10 am service or in the office. They are $2 each or 6 for $10.

NURTURING THE CONGREGATION

ADOPT A GARDEN BED

Do you love to garden but do not have place to cultivate? St Stephens has four raised garden beds next to the handicapped parking lot that are in need of tender love and care. The vestry has approved us offering them to four different families or individuals to adopt for the growing season. Those who are selected to adopt a bed will be in charge of planting, caring for and cultivating all that grows. All the church asks is that 10-20% of the food grown be donated to the food pantry. All those interested should contact the office. We want to adopt them out as soon as possible.

UPDATE ON LOAVES AND FISHES HOSPITALITY PROGRAM. Way to go St. Stephen's! Bravo! It's inspiring to see so many, many of you living out the Parable of the Loaves and Fishes. Refreshments and people are faithfully showing up each and every Sunday for sharing in community after the Sunday Service at 10 a.m. If you want be part of Loaves and Fishes Hospitality and haven't yet done so, there are several ways to participate. You are invited:

- To sign up to host a specific Sunday individually, as a group, to honor a birthday, to celebrate a person or event.
- To bring refreshments, food or drink, on a Sunday before services. (A list of suggestions is posted beside the sign-up sheet.) This is not an inclusive list by any means. Whatever you wish to share will be enough and received with gratitude and grace.
- Offer to fund a Sunday or two.
- To stop after services, enjoy coffee, tea, lemonade, and fellowship with people you know and maybe don't know.
- To offer prayers and blessings for this endeavor, which has the potential to draw people closer in so many ways.

In the spirit of Loaves and Fishes, if any food is left over from Loaves and Fishes, it is given to the Monday night Recovery Program at St. Stephens. If you have any questions, suggestions, etc. please feel free to share with Rev. Tom or email me at eleutherasgarden@gmail.com. Many blessings, Carol Rodrigue

BOOK NOOK DEDICATION IN MEMORY OF JOANNE DROPPERS. The Food Pantry's Book Nook was dedicated to Joanne on June 16th after her funeral service. Joanne was instrumental in establishing the St. Stephen's Food Pantry Book Nook. The Book Nook provides free books to any and all patrons of the weekly food pantry. Books were supplied through the REAL Program (Reading Educational Assistance Learning) and donations. Joanne especially delighted in providing books for children and those for whom English was a second language. If you would like to help continue her legacy, the Book Nook is always looking for volunteers to share books with patrons or read with the children. Speak to Sally Gosselin or Neil O'Donnell if this interests you!

SUMMER LEARNING AT ST. STEPHEN'S HEADS INTO YEAR 4. Summer Learning is getting ready for another great summer. A few slots still remain for children in Grades 1 & 2; sign up today so that your child will not miss this great opportunity for learning and fun. New and returning staff are planning 4 weeks of exciting summer activities in math, reading, writing and some STEM-related learning. The program runs from July 9th-August 2nd Monday through Thursday each week from 2:30-5:30pm. Volunteer opportunities are available. Speak with Micheal Brown if you are interested.

VOLUNTEER WEEK AT KIC. KIC Summer Camp Volunteers are needed again this year. Camp serves 118 local children from 1st to 5th grade starting July 9 and runs for 4 weeks. We are looking for people who are willing to spend 1- 4 mornings a week, 9—12:15. Volunteers read with or to children, play board games with them, and supply snacks for 100 kids each day. This is a really wonderful ministry of our church and we hope you will find it in your heart to help us out. We are counting on parishioners from St. Stephen's to come during the week of July 9 and have other parishes (St. Andrew's and St. Michael's Marblehead, and UU of Great Lynn) lined up to help with subsequent weeks, but we can likely use St. Stephen's people throughout the month as well. If you want to be a part of this 'village', please contact Bonnie Bishop at bishopbw@gmail.com or 781-771-4979 by June 24.

3rd ANNUAL LYNN YOUTH PRIDE EVENT WAS A SUCCESS! After months of planning, fundraising and publicizing, we had a successful Lynn Youth Pride Gathering on June 2 on the front lawn of St. Stephen's.

Attendees enjoyed music, food, art projects, information tables, service dogs, and poetry & musical performances. St. Stephen's once again put into practice our remarkable gifts for hospitality and progressive social actions.

A special thank you to Jamie Shore, Jason Cruz, Neil O'Donnell, Helen Patmon and the youth of OASIS for helping to make this an amazing and successful event.

OASIS. Contact Jason Cruz to find out more regarding OASIS events happening over the summer.

A REQUEST FOR HOSPITALITY. On Friday, July 20th, an Episcopal priest from Connecticut will be cycling through Lynn and has asked if he could stay overnight at St. Stephen's. He stated that he could camp out on our grounds, (not appropriate for the middle of the city) or sleep on the floor inside. His name is the Rev. Adam Yates from East Haddan, CT. On his sabbatical he is biking on the East Coast Greenway as it passes from Greenwich, CT to Calais, ME and back again, about 1800 miles. For more information about Rev. Yates and about his trip go to: ststeves.org/sabbatical.

He will be joining the Beloved Community Team for dinner. It would also be nice if someone would be willing to take him in for the night so he could sleep on a bed and have a shower. If you are intrigued with this opportunity please speak to Rev. Tom.
